

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Preface.

THE following pages contain the registers of the marriages, baptisms, and burials at the Church of St. Antholin, Budge Row, London, from 1538 to 1754, and also the registers of the baptisms and burials at the Church of St. John Baptist on Walbrook, London, from 1682 to 1754. The transcript of the original MSS. which form this volume was made a few years ago, at the instigation of the late Colonel CHESTER, and the whole of it was carefully revised by him before his death, and several doubts respecting the earlier entries were cleared up.

The Church of St. Antholin was rebuilt by Sir Thomas Knowles (Lord Mayor of London in 1399 and 1410) and Thomas Knowles his son, who were both buried there; and again rebuilt in 1513 by John Tate, mercer. It was repaired in 1616 at the expense of £1000, raised by seven of the inhabitants. It suffered from the great fire in 1666, but was restored about 1682 by Sir Christopher Wren, and was made the church of the then united parishes of St. Antholin and St. John Baptist, which together were reckoned of the yearly value of £120, in the early part of the eighteenth century, in lieu of tithes to the Incumbent.

Stow says that the Church of St. John Baptist stood upon "the very banks of Walbrook, and from thence it hath been after call'd St. John upon Walbrook." The church was newly built about 1412, and was repaired and adorned in 1621, but was burnt down in the great fire, and being afterwards annexed to that of St. Antholin, the site remained only as a churchyard for the inhabitants of both parishes.

In 1874 the demolition of St. Antholin was determined and carried out, and it was annexed to St. Mary Aldermanry, the registers of which church form the fifth volume of this series.

The entries in this volume are full of interest, though there are few to call for special notice. The plague of 1625 seems to have added considerably to the number of deaths, and from August 1666 to the end of 1667 no entries were made, owing, no doubt, to the great fire.

From 1538 to 1724 the registers of births, marriages, and burials have all been entered together, and in a note following an entry of November the 8th, 1724, it is stated "from this time all births and burials belonging to St. John Baptist's parish are registered in ye proper register of that parish." From 1724 to the end of the register of St. Antholin, it will be observed that the marriages are separated from the births and burials; the two latter, however, continue to be entered together. It will be seen, therefore, that previous to 1724 many of the entries of St. John Baptist parish occur in the St. Antholin register, though from the following pages it is clear that the registers of St. John Baptist were in existence from 1682.

The best thanks of the Society are, as before, due to the Rev. LEWIS BORETT WHITE, D.D., Rector of St. Mary Aldermanry, and to the Churchwardens, for their permission to print these registers and for the facilities they have given for their transcription, which has been carried out with the usual well-known care of the Society's transcriber, Mr. J. EEDES; but more especially are thanks due to Mr. WILLIAM HUGHES, who has corrected the proofs for the press—a labour which Colonel CHESTER had undertaken, but which unfortunately he was not spared to perform.

GEO. J. ARMYTAGE.
